SeaPort Airlines Granted “Airline of the Week”

In conjunction with the Port of Portland’s current “Thank you Orville and Wilbur” campaign, SeaPort Airlines is granted “Airline of the Week”.

Portland, Ore. – SeaPort Airlines, the Port of Portland, and thirteen PDX carriers have collaborated to promote air travel through a creative ad campaign thanking Orville and Wilbur Wright. Through SeaPort’s participation, the Port of Portland granted the carrier, “Airline of the Week” status which involves extensive recognition.

Orville and Wilbur will be at SeaPort’s private PDX terminal July 30th for the airline’s first birthday BBQ party from noon to 2pm. “The timing was perfect and we couldn’t be more thrilled to partner with The Port in promoting travel.” says Matt Kyler – Marketing Manager, SeaPort Airlines. “The opportunity to collaborate with The Port showcases SeaPort’s growth across the Northwest.”

“To show appreciation to PDX airlines for giving us access to markets near and far, we’ve launched a “Thank you Orville and Wilbur” campaign.” says Susan Bladholm – Corporate Marketing Senior Manager, Port of Portland. “Airlines such as SeaPort help connect corners of Oregon with other parts of the world, and we are happy to celebrate their contribution to our community as they celebrate their first year of operation at Portland International.”

SeaPort Airlines operates 36 daily scheduled flights in five Northwest cities with no TSA screening, bringing the convenience of a private aircraft to the average traveler for the same cost as the old airlines. What SeaPort offers isn’t just an alternative – it’s the future of short-distance air travel.

Since its start June 30, 2008, SeaPort has carried over 20,000 passengers.

SeaPort Airlines operates Swiss-built Pilatus PC-12s, a pressurized, fast and comfortable turbo-prop aircraft. SeaPort Airlines is a dba of Alaska Juneau Aeronautics, an FAA Part 135 certified scheduled air carrier founded in 1983. Tickets can be purchased at SeaPort’s website, www.SeaPortAir.com or by calling 888.573.2767. See Web site for airfare, rules and availability.
